FRAUDULENT NATURALIZATION.

That thousands of fraudulent naturalization pa-pers were issued from our courts in this city two , ago, and delivered to men who never personappeared in court or produced the proofs which vecule entitle them to become citizens, has been so well established that no person having due regard for bes character for truth would venture to call the fact in question. It is perhaps well enough that the persons who have received such papers, and have heretofore voted spon the strength of them, should know, if they do not know already, that such naturalization is no naturalization at all; and that any person who shall claim citizenship and vote upon the strength of such fraudulent certificates commits a felony pun ishable by fine or imprisonment or both. For the benefit of persons holding these worthless " papers " we quote the following sections of an act of Congress entitled "An act to amend the naturalization laws and to punish crimes against the same, and for other purposes," approved July 14, 1870: sec. 8. That any person who shall knowingly use any certificate of naturalization heretofore granted by apy Court, or which shall hereafter be granted, which has been, or shall be, procured through fraud or by false evidence, or has been or shall be issued by the Clerk, or any other officer of the Court without any appearance and hearing of the opticant in Court and without lawful authority; and any person who shall falsely represent himself to be a citizen of the United States, without having been duly mitted to citizenship, for any fraudulent purpose upon conviction thereof, in due course of law, shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not exceeding $1,000, or be imprisoned not exceeding two years, either or both in the sion of the Court taking cognizance of the same, proceedings had or taken, or attempted to be had or racedings and to taken, before any Court in which any proceeding for naturalization shall be commenced, had, or taken, or attempted to be commenced; and the Courts of the United States shall have jurisdiction of all offenses under the provisions of this act, in or before whatsoever Court or tribunal the same shall have been committed.

REPUBLICAN SPIRIT IN THE STATE.

The canvass in Oneida County is exciting much interest among the Republicans. Mr. Alfred C. Coxe of Utica addressed a large meeting in Clayville last week. He was followed by the Rev. J. F. Crawford. In Whitesboro Ellis H. Roberts, the Republican candidate for Congress in the XXIst District, delivered a stirring address before a crowded audience. The Hon. George Williams was President of the meeting, and the first speaker was M. D. Barnett, esq., of Rome. The rain fell in torrents during the evening, and the large number present was evidence of the carnestness among the Re-publicans in that section of the State which has hereto-tore been noted.

One of the largest meetings of this campaign in Syracuse was held on Monday evening in Shakespeare Hall. The assembly was called in support of the entire Republican ticket, but especially for the indorsement of the regular Republican nominee for Congress, the Hon, R. Helland' Duell. The Hon. James Noxon occupied the chair, and in taking his seat said that in spite of the complications existing in that District a saw no reason why the regular Republicans should not obtain their usual majority of about 5,000. Mr. Dennis McCarthy's course in running as an independent candidate was severely commented upon. Mr. Duell was then introduced, and was reserved with prolonged applianse and cheers. He reviewed very carefully the history of Republican nominations in the XXIIId District since 1802, showing a curious stringgle between Cortland and Onondaga Counties. The District comprising these two counties was first formed in 1862. The first Repubblican Convention passed a resolution giving the candidate to Onondaga three terms out of five, and to Cortland two Orems. Cortland was entitled, according to the arrangement, to the candidate in 1806, but Mr. Denlis mame being presented by the delegates from Cortland. There was much dissatisfaction feit, but Mr. Duell's name being presented by the delegates from Cortland. There was much dissatisfaction feit, but Mr. Duell's name being word of Cortland was polled for him. In 1808, Mr. McCarthy was nominated, according to the usual custom, for reflection, and now in 1870, when the claims of Cortland have at last been recognized by the nomination of Mr. Duell, Mr. McCarthy enters the field as an "independent candidate." Mr. Duell claimed that his opponent was unjustified by custom or courtesy in this course. He then pledged himself to take care of the salt interest of the district, saying that on the question of the protection of American industry bis voice had never been an uncertain sound. He learned his protection principles at the foot of Henry Clay. The Hon. George N. Kennedy and the Hon. Thomas G. Alvord followed Mr. Duell. Remarks were also made by Mr. George L. Maynard, Mr. Levi W. Hail, and the Hon. E. W. Lesvenworth. The speakers were constantly interrupted by appliance, and the meeting adjourned with loud cheers for the regular candidate.

The Chenango Telegraph says that the Assembly which welcomed Gen. Woodford in Norwich last week was the largest in-door gathering ever seen in not obtain their usual majority of about 5,000. Mr. Dennis McCarthy's course in running as an independbly which welcomed Gen. Woodford in Norwich last week, was the largest in-door gathering ever seen in that town, the hall being packed and hundreds being turned away, in spite of unpropitions weather. No po-litical speech in that section has been received with more decided favor. It was Gen, Woodford's first ap-pearance in that part of the State. The Hon, Horace G.* Prindle presided at the meeting.

POLITICAL NOTES. The poet Whittier declines the Prohibition comination to Congress for the VIth District, Mass.

Capt. George E. Hill, who has been nominated for the Assembly in the VIIth District, comm a gunboat with distinction during the Rebellion, and has since been engaged in the Internal Revenue service, and has n't got rich at it. He would make a useful member of the Assembly, and ought to be elected. The Republicans of Monmouth County will bold a grand mass meeting at Van Vort's Hotel, Long Branch, N. J., this evening, Nov. 3. Gen. James F. Rusling, the Hon. Samuel Dobbins, and J. E. Schroeder, eeq., will be present and address the meeting. Ex-Gov.

Newell, the candidate for Congress of this (IId) District,

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the solored voters of Monmouth County was held at Washington Hall, Pine Brock, N. J., on last Monday evening Oct. 31. The large hall was densely filled, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed. The Hon. John Buckingham, the Hon. Firman Taylor, and J. E. Schroeder, esq., addressed

As exceedingly lively contest is in progress in Chicago in the Congress District now represented by Mr. Judd. A large number of Republicans have bolted the regular nomination and, uniting with the Democrate are supporting the Hon. John Wentworth, Mr. Hoyne the regular Democratic nominee, having withdrawn. Both The Chicago Tribune and Chicago Times support him heartily, while The Republican opposes him.

It is intimated that the repeaters and ballotbox stuffers of Brooklyn, where they have no registry of votes, are making preparations on a grand scale to make up there by fraudulent voting what they are likely to less in this city by interference with those repeating and false-counting enterprises which have heretofore been a tower of strength to the party. We trust that our friends over the river will keep a sharp eye upon such regues, as we intend to do here.

KINGS COUNTY POLITICS.

DIVISIONS AMONG THE REPUBLICANS—THE THIRD CONGRESS AND FIFTH ASSEMBLY DISTRICTS—THE DEMOCRATIC "RING."

The nominations in Kings County have all been made; the candidates are known, and, in the di-vided ranks of the Republicans, the campaign is waged with a bitterness of invective unknown of late years. On the other hand, the Democrats have an unbroken front, and their leaders openly boast that, in addition to their own, they parily run the Republican "machine." The chief point of interest is in the triangular contest in the HIId Congress District. The regular nominees are Erastus D. Webster, Republican, and Henry W. candidate in the "Republican Reform" interest. He is backed by a powerful moneyed association, some of his most ardent supporters being Wall-st. and Broad-st. men of the XXXIId District, New-York, who reside in the Third and Twentieth Wards of Brooklyn. Mr. Webster, as is well known, was at one time United States Assessor of the XXXIId District. The IIId is a close district, at best, giving ordinarily less than 1,000 Democratic majority on a fair vote and count. It comprises the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Seventh, Eleventh, Thirteenth. Fifteenth, Nineteenth, and Twentieth Wards, only two of which, the Second and Fifth, are

But there was an implied susgestion, by some impertinent lawyor, that Mr. Glennon is not known by that name when his double salary comes to be prid. The District-Attorney, however, declared, and was sustained by the Judge, that this matter was irrelevant. Shall we dare to dispute the opinion of Blunt, beated up by Cox! But supposing the fact to be as insimated, what then 1 Mr. Glennon is not the first man to whom mency has been paid under a nom deplume. Didn't Dickens sometimes sign papers as Boz! Thackeray as Jeams Yellow-plush! and our venerated Mayor as Yorick! There is such a virtue as Modesty; and if one may judge from a slight induction, this is one of Mr. Glennon's characteristics. I have looked in vain in the Directory for his name, "Inspector of Lights and Gas, or something else," as he was: clerk in the office of the County Clerk, water-policeman, livery-stable bookkeeper, and secretary of a Norton Club, as he is, his same appears to be unknown to Mr. Trow and his canvassers. But merit cannot always be hidden by modesty; and the hitherto unknown name of John Glennon appears in print, and his character for truthfulness is indersed by Police-Justice Cox. May he bear his honors meekly, an not think himself now a peg above Tweed, Hall, Fisk, Hoffman and Company.

SLAVERY IN THE SPANISH COLONIES.

DEFENCE OF THE ACTION AND POLICY OF THE CORTES.

The English Anti-Slavery Association has published a communication from the Spanish Govern-ment to Earl Granville, defending the Emancipation polter lately adopted by the Cortes, and condemned by th Association in one of its publications. The following are the principal points of the communication: "The Spanish Government feels itself called upon to express its gratitude to Her Majesty's Gov-ernment for the worthy and friendly manner in the same results, but in a quicker way, than the law of Bollyar.

the same results, but in a quicker way, than the law of Bollvar.

"But, spart from these considerations, which being grave and important, the Government was bound to present first, is is very certain, as the illustrious Lord Clarendon stated to the Committee, that the true merit of the conduct of the Spanish Government consisted in having entered upon Abolition in the midst of a struggle, and when the interests opposed therete might bring forward very powerful reasons for putting off the solution.

"Bosides, it cannot be denied that Abelitionist opinion in Cuba is very weak, and in proof thereof, it must be remembered that the insurgents themselves, who have proclaimed it as an indispensable means of obtaining sympathy, do not carry it out; of this there are conclusive proofs in the documents published by the Abolition Society itself, and in those written by the Spanish Government in the Habana. Even supposing there were no respectable interests on the side of the maintenance of Slavery, it is undoubted that the transformation about to be suffered by production in Cuba domands sacrifices which make the attitude of the Peninsular purity in that island truly patriotic, and give a right to the conduct of the Government to be regarded with sympathy. In spite of this, the Government has not entered upon that question, but, having given the law, has domanded the coöperation of the proprietors in total and complete abolition. This coöperation has been granted, and st this moment the Government, made strong by public opinion, is preparing the means of presenting complete abolition to the next Assembly.

"HE DRAMA"

THE DRAMA

WALLACK'S-THE SERIOUS FAMILY. For the first time this season Barnett's fine

comedy of "The Serious Family" was acted, last night, at Wallack's Theater. It is a prodigious favorite, and the house was crowded. To dilate on the comedy would be, most emphatically, if not "to paint the lilly," at least to receho household words. Everybody knows "The Serious Family," and knows it for "a hit back"—and a very direct, distinct, positive, and effectual one—against the illiberal pletists who are forever damning everything bright in life, as well as against the loathsome hypocrites who masquerade in the garments of religion. Every one knows also, supposing the observer to have an eye for such matters, that the comedy is a fine and very gratifying type of symmetrical construction. It was prettily set upon Mr. Wallack's stage last night, and its representation was enjoyed to the utmost—as the merriest laughter and the warmest appliause very often testified. The spectacle of exposed duplicity in the moral aspects of life is one that everybody sees with delight. It was shown on this occasion, and it was illustrated in a brilliant light. John Brougham acted Cap-tain Murphy Maguire. He may be said to be identified with the part. There is nobody on the stage who has played it as well. The personation was as dashing as ever, last night—full, to the brim, of the champagne of animal spirits, and radiant with that tender light of kind feeling and delicate sentiment, to say nothing of the easy because natural grace of manner, which belong to the character, and which are poculiarly the attributes of this comedian. The Aminadab Sicek was Mr. J. H. Stoddart, and it was a fine specimen of character-painting, tinged with unconscious dry humor. Mr. Clarke played Charles Torrens, and made it humoreusly demure and gracefully spirited—as it should be. Mrs. Sefton admirably filled the character of Lady Sowerby Creamly, as those who know her excellent talents and thoroughly matured style will readily imagine. Mrs. Torrens was neatly and meely acted by Mrs. Barry. Miss Henriques played the Widow Delmains, for the representation of which an actress of greater dash, greater warmth of temperament, and more assured method, would, in some particulars, be more suitable. Yet there was a very enjoyable quality of refinement in the performance. Miss Helen Tracy personated Emma Torrens, and Mr. Rockweil appeared s Frank Vincent.-It will be seen that the cast was un commonly good. We may, in all sincerity, add that the acting gave delightful illustration to one of the merriest and most telling of the stock comedies of the stage.— 'The Serious Family" will be repeated on Friday.-To night, "The Rivals." Saturday, "John Bull." NEW-YORK CIRCUS. The matinée at the Circus yesterday was attended by a large throng. Afternoon performances at this house are always especially pleasant, on account of the presence of so many happy children. The difficult, daring, and often comical "Fattoute Leaps" were done yesterday, and Mr. Robert "Rickney especially excelled in them. The familiar, but amusing and always acceptable farce of the Statue-called, in this instance, "The Sculptor's Stratagom" closed the entertainment. THE WIFE-MURDER IN OHIO-A HORRIBLE BUTCHERY.

The details of the recent horrible wifemurder near Lima, Ohio, are given by the Western Assomurder near Lima, Ohio, are given by the Western Associated Press as follows:

The man's name who committed the murder is Andrew Brentlinger. The building is a log house, distant about half a mile from any other farm house. It appears that Brentlinger and wife had not been living beaceably together, and parted at one time and got together again some time since, but lived no better than before. Brentlinger was jealous of a neighbor who visited the house often, and thought he was criminally intimate with his wife. On Monday afternoon hast about 2 o'clock they got into a quarrel in front of the house on the porch, when he tripped her face. He then turned her over and stabbed her several times with a small knife. He then called his little girl, teiling her to bring his large knife, a dirk. She refused to do so at first, but he threatened to kill her also, and she finally got it. With this knife he finished his hellish work, and left his wife to die. He then went on horseback to one of his sons, working some five miles distant, and to another, some fifteen miles distant, and to another, some fifteen miles distant, and to did them what he had done, and gave them instructions to bury her, saying he would kill them if they refused or told of the murder. They went home, and on Tuesday morning, about 4 o'clock, dug a hole about thirty steps from the house, and about two feet deep, put the body in face downward, in the same clothes in which she was murdered, all covered and stuck together with blood, covered her up, and plowed and harvowed the ground over to conceal the place. The body when removed was very black, and showed eight stabs, four in the region of the breast and four in the abdomen. A post-mortem examination revealed two ribs broken, a stab through the liver and in other vital parts. It was not shown in the testimony before the Coroner that the woman had been criminally intimate with any one. Brentlinger was lodged in jail. To the Editor of The Tribune. SIR: In THE DAILY TRIBUNE of the 29th inst., I notice a report which seems to convey the idea that there is no law for punishing the use of American Trade Marks on imported watches, or similar articles Winter, which forms a part of the present law relating to patents and copyrights, and which provides:

patents and copyrights, and which provides:
That any person or firm domiciled in the United States, or resident of, or located in any foreign country, which by treaty or convention, affords similar privileges to citizens of the United States (as France now does), may obtain protection for any lawful trade mark, which he may now be entitled to use, or which he may bereafter adopt, by complying with the requirements of the law, and making application to the Fatant Office as prescribed. See Sec. 77, act of July 8, 1870.

Sec. 78 provides that such right shall continue for 30 years, and that it may be renewed for 30 years more, by applying six months before the expiration of the first term, and paying the same fee as for its original registration, $25. It also provides that the applicants shall have the exclusive use of such trade mark. Sec. 79 reads as

A CRITIC CORRECTED.

To the Editor of The Trabune. Sin: I find the following in THE TRIBUNE of to-day:

of to-thy:

"Now, whatever else The Therene may be, it should be correct in its classics. The above alliation, Homo sum, etc., is from Terence, not from Juvensi, as The There is no the same of the s

Now, who wer else a critic may be, he should be correct in his spelling. If my memory serve, Terence's play is named Heautontimorumenos, the Romans having an ignorant aversion to the diphthong ou affected by J. H. B. Having settled this extremely momentous matter, I hope every one concerned will feel better.
